

Announcements for Monday, February 4, 2019

- Literacy Week continues...The answer to Friday's Harry Potter trivia question is the Quick Quotes Quill is the favorite of Rita Skeeter. Congratulations to our winners, Jill DeCosta and Emma Neal. Please stop by the Media Center during lunch today to claim your prize.

Thank you for participating this week. Keep Reading!!

- Attention Seniors! If you want free money to pay for college, you should check out all of the scholarships on the Guidance link of the Bartram Trail website! Many more scholarships have been added in the past few days. There are scholarships for engineering, vegetarians, track & field, the arts, automobile lovers, Liberty Pines Academy alumni, working with the elderly, playing the piano, digital responsibility, beauty and wellness, students with Italian-American heritage, etc.. Scholarship info and applications are listed by month, according to their deadline. All of these scholarships have up-coming deadlines, so please do not wait to check them out! Don't let free money slip through your fingers!

- Congratulations to the BTHS JROTC Drill Team! The team traveled to Valdosta and won an impressive 9 trophies resulting with them being crowned the overall champions of the annual Lowndes High School, Tittle Town Drill meet.

- There is still time to sign up to audition for Singing Valentines - Audition times are available after school on Wednesday! Sign up outside the chorus room at the end of the 200 hallway, or see Ms. Mattingly in the chorus room. Singing Valentines are for sale during all lunches - $1 for a song, $5 for a song and a rose.